Eagle Scout completes 230-mile trek

'Surprises' most difficult part of long mountain hike

By Linda M. Hickman

Three days of pouring rain, a lost food bag and one mangled pair of boots into it, Sean Smith decided the 230-mile hike he was on was not much fun. But it had seemed like a good idea at the time.

Smith, a Rancho Cucamonga resident, was one of several Boy Scouts from across the country to complete the trek through the mountainous Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico this summer.

"It's just about the hardest and most intense project we could have gone through," Smith, an Eagle Scout, said.

The 13 people on the hike, including rangers, completed an average of 20 miles per day, but went as far as 32 miles in one day, he said.

As if the strain of traveling such distances over rough terrain was not enough, Smith said the rangers added an element of mental play to the event.

"They don't tell you what you're going to be doing," he said. "It's all a surprise ... you never knew when you were going to rest or eat."

As an example, Smith said he and the other scouts were informed that they would arrive at the ranch the evening of June 23 and start on the hike the following morning. But once all the scouts arrived, the story changed and the journey began

But Smith said the element of surprise was helpful to him. "If they'd told us in the morning, 'You're going to do a 32-mile hike today,' there's no way we could have made it," he said.

Smith said that at the beginning of the trip, "all you had to worry about was eating, sleeping and hiking." But things grew a bit more complicated when the scouts were broken into small groups and left without rangers to find their way alone.

Later the scouts had to make part of the trip in pairs, then individually. "They left you alone with two quarts of water and no food," Smith said.

But even this did not compare with the one point at which Smith wished he had not attempted the trip. He said the group had been hiking downhill for hours when he realized he had forgotten his "bear bag," a bag of food strung up in a tree to keep the bears from it.

"I told my rangers. The next morning the rangers said 'Come on, everybody, let's go. We're going back to get that bear bag.' We all said, 'What?' " Smith said.

While the hike was physically demanding, Smith said part of the difficulty came from the absence of every day luxuries that most take for granted.

For example, he said the rangers confiscated the scouts' watches before the trip began, and "the whole hike the only thing you had to eat was squeeze cheese-spread and crackers. It really wasn't all that good."

Smith's mother, Sandy, said "The first postcard we got was about how much fun Sean was having on the hike. The last was ... a whole list of places he wanted to eat when he got home."

Smith said one aspect of the trip he had not considered was the fact that he was hiking with people who had never heard of "In 'n' Out Burger."

But Smith said he gained more insight from the experience than merely a fresh appreciation for the glories of fast food.

Uplanders fight stop sign removal

By David Madsen

Residents living near 17th Street and Campus Avenue plan to fight a recent decision by the Upland City Council to remove stop signs from the intersection.

One year ago residents petitioned the council to install stop signs on 17th Street at Campus, Francis and Second avenues to protect schoolchildren from traffic.

The council agreed to approve the stop sign installation on a trial basis, with the condition that the city would monitor traffic speeds, volumes and motorist compliance for one

The year-long study indicated that traffic speeds on 17th Street between Campus and Euclid Avenues did not decrease significantly after the stop signs were installed.

In July the council voted to retain the stops signs at 17th Street and Second Avenue, but to remove the signs at Campus and Francis

The council kept the stop signs at Second Avenue because the intersection was a school crossing.

However, residents who also want to retain the other stop signs claim the study's results are inaccurate.

"The stop signs are needed because children living on Winston Avenue cross at Francis instead of Second Avenue to get home from school,"said Vern Goodwin, an area resident.

Traffic from Rancho Cucamonga on Campus at 17th Street also makes the streets hazardous for children to cross without stop signs, he added.

Goodwin and a group of his neighbors plan to lobby the City Council to reverse its decision during the coming month.

WHO PAYS YOUR BENEFITS?

Many people think that the State of California pays them when they are injured on the job. Others think that the State of California handles and processes injuries that occur on the job. THIS IS TOTALLY INCORRECT. THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA HAS LITTLE OR NOTHING TO DO WITH PAYMENT OF CLAIMS.

By law, each employer must purchase Workers' Compensation Insurance. The largest insurance company in the state is called the "State Compensation Insurance Fund." The name is misleading in that the company is an insurance company that competes with other insurance companies and has nothing to do with the State of California. The entire system of Workers' Compensation is handled by Workers' Compensation is handled by private insurance companies such as "Liberty Mutual," "Aetna," "Firemans Fund," and a host of others. They all compete vigorously for the Workers' Com-pensation premium dollar. Believe me, they know how to collect the premium, but it is another story when it comes time to pay the injured worker his benefits.

to pay the injured worker his benefits.

Whenever you are injured on the job, you will be dealing with an insurance company; you will not be dealing with someone from the State. You will be faced with having to work with an insurance adjuster who has had many years of experience in handling these types of claims. THEY KNOW WHAT THEY ARE DO-ING! DO YOU?????

Many of our clients are concerned that Many of our clients are concerned that their employer is getting sued or will have to pay the benefits out of his pocket. This is not true as his insurance company will handle the claim and the employer has little if anything to do other than reporting the claim to his insurance company. The filing of a Workers' Compensation claim is not a lawsuit, it is merely requesting the benefits that an injured employee is entitled to. It is not the insurance companies responsibility to adinsurance companies responsibility to advise you of your rights. IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO UNDERSTAND AND KNOW YOUR BENEFITS UNDER WORKERS'

e party's over at favorite canyon spot

By Richard Peraza

A new curfew could dull the "Sapphire's" party sparkle within a week.

The San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors approved twin ordinances Monday, slapping a curfew on the Cucamonga Canyon area in hopes of ending use by nighttime revelers.

Both ordinances cite the combination of often-intoxicated teen-agers and steep terrain as a safety hazard warranting closure of Sapphire, a Cucamonga Canyon area named for the Rancho Cucamonga avenue leading up to it. They declare the area off limits during the hours between an hour after sundown and an hour before sunrise.

The first document, an urgency ordinance, is effective immediately but expires Oct. 12. However, a permanent version which becomes effective in 30 days, will be in force by then.

Located on the edge of the San Bernardino National Forest, Sapphire has been a local gathering place for teen-agers "forever," according to Supervisor Jon Mikels, whose 2nd District envelops the area. "As more and more people moved into the area, the problem has just snowballed. If we don't do something about it, we'll be in trouble."

"It's taken almost two years," to work out an agreement with the county and U.S. Forest Service to establish the curfew, according to Rancho Cucamonga Mayor Dennis Stout. "I've heard a thousand excuses as to why it couldn't be done, but was aware they had done the same thing in L.A. County with the Glendora Mountain Road,"

Stout said. "So I knew it was possible, just a matter of working out the legalities."

Deputies have had difficulty confiscating intoxicants because of the high-ground's view of the valley below. "They could always see the approach

FITNESS

Stout said.

Adding fuel to the fire was finding out many of the visitors weren't locals. "The idea this is primarily used by locals is erroneous. We've had them from as far away as Long Beach,' Stout said. "I think, by reputation, it was understood all over Southern California that place was basically open.'

Stout said he received Mikels' support for a curfew "several months ago," but "it's been extremely frustrating trying to get all these agencies together."

He finally called a joint meeting last month with representatives of the Sheriff's Department, Forest Service, the city and county at which a key deal was struck.

The Forest Service agreed to issue an order for closure of the area if both city and county passed ordinances first. The city passed its ordinance two weeks ago, Stout said.

"Our goal is to have it in place by the time school starts," next Tuesday, he said.

HOW TO ....

WRITE A CLASSIFIED AD THAT WORKS!!

Give readers the information they want and get the results... YOU want.

be complete.

Put yourself in the reader's place. If you were considering buying this item what would you want to know about it? Give the item's age, condition, size, brand name and any other information needed to describe it accurately and completely.

avoid abbreviations.

A few standard abbreviations can help you save space but don't overdo it. Too many abbreviations will make your ad look like a secret coded message. Rather than trying to figure out what you're trying to say, confused readers will go on to the next ad.

include price.

Price is one of the biggest concerns of classified readers. Ads that list prices will get their attention first. Including the price will also help you avoid inquiries from readers not in your price range.

be available.

List your telephone number or address so potential buyers will know HOW to contact you. State the best hours to call so they'll know WHEN to contact you. If you're not home when an interested prospect calls, chances are he won't call back.

feel free to ask for help.

Because help is free for the asking. The Daily Report maintains a staff of professional Advisors who write dozens of ads every day. They'll be happy to help you word your ad for the best results.

Place your classified ad TODAY! CALL 987-9200

TALK

It takes a commitment to achieve success. Being successful isn't worth it if you don't enjoy what you're doing. Success in real estate comes easier if you're the type of individual who sincerely wants to help another person rather than being commission hungry. A successful real estate office is a team of people who are as excited by the other agent's victories as much as their own. If you share my philosophy, I'd like to talk to you. Licensed or not, call Doug Madison at 714-981-4836
